Full job description

Little Scholars School is currently looking for dedicated Educators to provide high-quality early childhood education and care for infants, toddlers, and preschoolers. This role focuses on delivering exceptional early learning experiences, requiring patience, compassion, responsibility, strong organizational skills, and a solid background in childhood development.

Position Description An Educator delivers high-quality instruction, designs engaging and creative learning activities, supports cognitive and social-emotional development, and fosters positive peer interactions in a nurturing classroom environment.

Essential Duties and Responsibilities

- Delivers intentional, high-quality early learning curricula tailored to infants, toddlers, and preschoolers. Curriculum is provided for the Educator to prepare.
- Monitors all children in the classroom to ensure safety, well-being, and positive behavior.
- Designs and implements creative craft projects and educational activities.
- Maintains a clean, organized, and stimulating learning environment.

- Supervises children closely during outdoor play.
- Guides positive social interactions and resolves peer disputes constructively.
- Applies appropriate positive guidance and behavioral strategies when necessary.
- Provides consistent, professional updates to parents regarding children's academic and developmental progress.
- Administers first aid and comfort when children are sick, homesick, or upset.
- Facilitates foundational learning activities focused on early literacy, language, and the alphabet.
- Coordinates and oversees restful nap and rest times.
- Provides attentive, nurturing care for infants, including feeding, diapering, and soothing.
- Assists with mentoring, training, and overseeing teacher's assistants.
- Responds swiftly and calmly to emergencies, contacting parents immediately when necessary.
- Communicates professionally with families to answer inquiries and discuss child progress.

Required Knowledge, Skills, and Abilities

- Demonstrates unwavering patience, empathy, and compassion.
- Exhibits high levels of responsibility, attentiveness, and professional accountability.
- Possesses strong organizational skills to manage a dynamic classroom.
- Demonstrates deep knowledge of proper childcare techniques and early childhood development theory.
- Applies child development principles effectively into daily lessons and activities.
- Possesses strong active listening and communication skills tailored for young children and families.
- Exhibits strong leadership and mentoring skills.
- Thinks and acts quickly, calmly, and effectively in crisis situations.
- Holds current certifications in basic first aid and emergency procedures.
- Demonstrates strong problem-solving and creative curriculum-design skills.
- Possesses the physical and mental stamina required to actively oversee and engage young children daily.

Education and Experience Candidates must hold at least a high school diploma, with a Degree or specialized credential in Early Childhood Education strongly preferred. Applicants must have previous experience teaching and working with young children, preferably in a structured preschool, childcare, or classroom setting as a teacher's assistant or lead educator.
